PENSION ORATORY IN THE HOUSE

Policy of the Administration Score by Both Republicans and Democrats.

Washington, January 15. - Senato Mills' speech on finance with frequent direct criticisms of the President and secretary of the treesury, was the main of today's session. There was Presidential policy. His criticisms to day were temperate and dignified, the senator giving expression to his high personal regard for the executive, al-though differing from him radically on

Whenever the verdict of the people

Whenever the verdict of the people had been taken it had been to favor of the legal tender notes. The people had always stood against bonds. "Let any party," said Mr. Mills, "dare to go before the country in the coming contest with a plain declaration favoring a bonded debt and bank circulation, and when the campaign is over that party will need the services of a first-class underlaker."

He differed with the President on this was a country of free discussion, and the difference with the Freedient and the first-class underlaker. Mr. Gray asked if Mr. Mills believed in noise which were never redeemed; in chort, fist money.

Mr. Mills rejected the idea that legal tender notes were fist, and explained the theory of fist money.

"Why did not our distinguished secretary of the trensury," select Mr. Mills, "when the bank compliancy began say to there gentlemen, now sent in your cards and I will pay you in silver? If the secretary had coined the silver is the trensury and paid it for current expenses there would have been no defect."

—Sir:—It is with great hesitation that I venture to address you in relation to the present financial situation.

As you are doubtless well aware, inancial affairs are approaching a serious crisis and the tension today is extrume, and whilst no outward evidences have developed we are likely at any moment to reach the point and conceyonness which it will then be too late to remedy. The gravity of the situation must be my excuse. The most important step at this moment is the restoration of government creait by replacing the gold reserve in the treasury beyond question. This much accomplished, considence, both home and abroad, in the stability of our currency will be restored.

I, therefore, took steps to assertain whether it would be possible to obtain the eco-operation of the parties at home and abroad to the extent that would enable me to negotiate a contract with the government for the sale of 11,500,000 onnees of gold, approximating $200,000,000, on about the basis of the contract of February 0, 1896. In this effort I have been successful, and am now in position to make such a contract for the full amount. I do not hesitate to affirm, in fact urgs, that such a contract would in Denver, January 15.—A special to the Republican from Oreede, Col., says: Unless a compromise is effected between the United Mine Lessing Company and its employes it seems likely there will be bloodehed larer in a day or two. The company suspended operations yesterday and hefore the men could file a lieu on the property for their unpaid wages, the manager of the Amethyst Mining Company appeared with papers showing title to the $14,000 pump and prepared to remove it. The employes of the leasing company armed themselves and drove the others away and have since had possession. Serious trouble is feared.

Colon with the view of trying to bring about a picked battle with the insorgents advanting through the province of Santa Clata.

The distress in the province of Matanzas and other places devestated by the insorgents is very great, and the lucal authorities in various districts have been granted permission to cubect funds by gubile subscription for the relief of the enflorers. In addition, all the soldiers and all the employes of the different ranches of the government have agreed to give on day's pay each month towards the funds being collected.

The proces of provisions are ricing very rapidly and the expense of living is fully 60 per cent more than a month ago. At the rate things are going, though the Spanish authorities are still hopeful of driving the insurgents essivered and westward of Havana, the city of Havana will be the most expensive living place in the world. If this is the rate with the more expensive living place in the world. If this is the trawill be woren if the Spanish commanders are unable to check the advance westward of the second Cohan army.

Business is suffering terribly on all sccepted as the true one, since Mr. Morgan and his friends are inlly aware of the fact that the success of the lash hy popular subscription is no longer a matter of doubt. To hold the syndicate banks to the terms of the contract, it is argued, would prevent any of them from participating in the loan except in the capacity of a syndicate, which under the changed conditions almost certainly would result to their disadvantage.

Mr. Morgan's purpose in releasing his associates, it is believed, is to give them an equal chance with the other hanks and thancial institutions to secure whatever part of the loan they may desire only active and some controlled the many desire.

Business is suffering terribly on all sides and the moreantile community is heartly tirel of the insurrection and everything connected with it.

gentrogeneris asked for Madkin, January 15.—Captain Gen-eral Compos has seked for cavalry reinof the cabinet at the President' suggestion.

It is stated on high authority that the President and Secretary Ordicle have received such assurances from a large number of prominent bankers through out the country that there cannot be a doubt as to the loan being negotined.

It is argued that during the late heak in the market which followed the announcement of the government's attitude on the Venezuelan question, eastern bankers took advantage of the sharp decline in American securities and as a result their holdings are now large and must be protected from a further decline which would follow the failure of the loan or the depletion of the reserve to a point so unavoidable as to affect the market.

Under these circumstances it is believed that should a large export movelieved that to a point so unavoidable as to affect the matket.

Under these circumstances it is believed that should a large export movement set in before the loan is consummated, the large banks and other financial institutions would mentralize the effect by making deposits of gold.

In any event the officials here are not apprehensive of any serious difficulty in maintenining the reserve at about its present figure nor in placing the $100_{\circ}$, 000,000 loan at a fair price, both to the government and to the purchaser. The only serious question involved in the situation, it is said, is from what source are the bond purchasers to obtain their gold, and if from the banks, as eeems altogether probable as to a vary large percenting of it, will not the banks eventually receive their reserve boldings by withdrawals from the freaeury? Bealers in Game Indignant. which confines the sale of wild game to two months is causing great indignation among the dealers of this city and they among the dealers of this city and they propose to beat it if they can. The cause of heavy artillery firing heard yesterday is the vicinity of Bejucal, south of this city and about half way between Havana and Batano, remained a mystery until about mon totay. It appears that the inangenis under diome: were twice repulsed in attempting to capture the city.

It is eaid the principal object of Gomez' stack on Bejucal and other places south of this city is to create a diversion under which his lientenant, General Antonio Macce, may retire from the province of Pinar del Rio.

Further news from Gomez was recived this evening from San Antonio de Los Hanos, to the westward of Salent, and in a southwesterly direction from Bejucal, where he was repulsed yesterday. Moving apparently toward La Ceclia, Gomez has burned the railroad station at Relioritad, west of San Antonio de Los Banos, sond when last heard from was howing so rapidly that it is not thought the troops under General Linarse will be able to exist him. From the direction Gomez is taking he may contemplate an attack upon Guananisy. All this value represents just so much of a drain from this country to swell the bank secounts of the pot-bellied gentlemen of case in England and to assist us in exapping the ciutches of those "robber barons" of whom we need to read. The barons' of whom we used to read. The average person wherever his lot may be acest within the domain of the Union can determine for himself by this time how much meat there was in that twaddle about buying in the cheapest market and 'restling in the markets of the world.' Indeed if there is anybody so desice that he has not learned from the experience of the past thirty-six months his case is hopeless, and the would not be benefited by a half-fare excursion through the infernal regions.

It is needless to say that the people of the United Stace have benefitted by the experience of the past two years—they have benefitted to that extent that free trade will not be a live issue in the politics of this country again for some d cades at least. The party organs will make an idle and empty prefers of ad-vocating that lost cause, but they will do so with a full knowledge of the fact that their beautiful theory has been hope their beautiful theory has been hoped lessly wrecked by their attempt to put it in practical operation.

A conservative but distinctly protective tariff policy is the one which is bound to permanently prevail in this nuntry, and the sooner that basis is reached the cooner will the business in-terests of the country be as 'fully sub-served as they can be by a tariff on for-eign imports. It will be impossible to sin lead the masses of this country to selieve that their pathway to prosperity termine upon a system of duties that will equitably distribute the benefits of protection, while supplying a sufficient revenue for the necessities of the gov-

There is one other thing that is absolutely necessary. The choice of a nexecutive officer of shifty should not be overlooked. He should be a man who knows polities, not one whose only qualifications are that he is a respectable and bonest man and good Democrat. The party is full of each men, but they are not generals fit to command an army.

Take notice, you respectable Demo-crate and honest men; you are all well enough when it comes to marching in the ranks of the faithful and to do the voting at the polis, but somehody of at antirely different sort is wanted to diyour political movements. THE latest circular of Henry Clewes, the Wall Street banker, has this to say in reference to the forthcoming bond issue:

The government's choice of a "popular" subscription to the $100,000,000 han, instead of placing the negotiation in the hands of a syndicate, has for the moment checked a recovering tendency in prizes which was beginning to appear. moment checked a recovering in prices which was beginning to app. Wall Street, however, has very generation that, should Wall Street, however, due very gone-op-come to the conclusion that, should the popular subscriptione prove to be insuf-ficient in amount, nothing is likely to prevent the bank cyndicate from finally taking up the balance of the bonds not covered by the popular subscriptions.

No, there is not the slightest earthly danger that the administration's syndi-cate will decline to take any and all of Cleveland 4-per cent gold bonds that come within its reach. Of course, it was something of a disappointment to be suchered, by mere public clamor, out of a few millions additional profit in the way of commissions, but still the bonds are good enough without the commission and the syndicate will take care of any that may not he in demand by other bankers who know a good thing when it is presented to them on a gold salver. The syndicate would quite naturally prefer to be paid for doing what others are ready to do for nothing, but of course they can see how difficult it was for the President cent to come in on an equality with the ordinary hankers of the country. So the people need not lay awake nighte any longer worrying over the attenuated condition of the treasury reserve The country is saved again.

A.J.W. DECIDED TO MARRY.

The Advice of Judge Tucker Is

Acted Upon. The Selma Irrigator says that on las Thursday evening two young couples purporting to be married couples arrived in Selma from Tolere city and put up at that sort. The only question is as to whether the writer schally voices the sentiments of the party. If so, there will certainly be little trouble in finding the right man for the job. There is beasily no extretion of politicians whose ambitions are satisfied with a position of that kind. As a matter of fact a good deal of the boat energy of a party is usually required to hold in check the vaulting ambition of the class of politicians who are faithfully described in the above extract from the afternoon paper. If the local Democracy is really lunting a boss the respect and crown will not long be covered with cobwebs, Tucker, several being present to witners the name of the other pair were D. Faulkner and Miss Leon Undsät; they were not married lowerer. After the marriage had been duly consummated all the prisoners were diemiseed, there appearing to the courl insufficient evidence to warrant their recention. The young lady who was married to Fonk is no doubt a victim of circumstances. She and Funk were exhorimates in Kansse, and while there became desply in love and were engaged to be married. Subsequent to their engagement Funk came to Oslifornia. After having been here a short while the wrote to Miss Williamson to Jonne out and they would wed. When the young aday arrived at Tulare City her lover was without employment, and desired to postpone the marriage until be could secure work, hence her trip to Selma. Bad companionship added to illeness led to the cantequences which met the young people here. Miss Williamson upons interview proves herself to be a young anterview proves herself to be a young the principle of the mindeed, and printy, and to have balled from good ancestry. All the young people returned to Tulare on the train yesterday evening very penittent for their middeeds, and promised in the future to refrain from anch conduct.

Post.

The managers of the Theatre Francais have become frightened at the dimensions of the fashionable hat and have posted a notice to the effect that no boniels of any description, large or small, will be allowed in the stub, either at mattnee or evening performance. This has raised asterm of almost tearful protest from Parls women. They are willing to leave the picture hat at home, but they beg for the privilege of wenting the tiny beamet. Every woman knows how demoralizing it is to the coffirm to have to take off hat and veil, and when this must be accomplished in a dressing toom crowded with women lurrying to join impatient escorts it may be assumed that heads with chevelures decidedly mussy must be the result. One woman seeks rouge in print. may be assumed that heads with cheve-lures decidedly massy must be the re-sult. One woman seeks rofuge in print, objecting in strong language at learning her beloved bounet, an objet d'art as she calls it, to the tender mercies of a theater dressing room carotaker. Alto-gether it is a pretty moddle, and one from which the menagers of the Fron-custs must suffer if they persevere in their stern dictum.

Decline of the Folding Bed.

Decline of the Folding Red.

The folding hed, once an immensely popular institution, is losing its grip. Not use its called for new where two or three years ago and can were ordered. Two hig factories we know of, which a very few years ago had difficulty in keeping up with orders for fulting beds even by working night and day, are now making other lines of furniture, and the folding hed production in all factories is steadily declining. "They say" that a terrific millinery war is ruging in London just now. It is the battle of hat versus toque, and the outcome is as yet uncertain. The styles are equally charming, and feminine fancy sides first with one and then with the other. A large paar gray felt hat is handsomely trimmed with black and white striped ribbon, which uppears in hingo plaitings about the crown. Black wings and white osprey provide the rost of the trimming, while the brim is faced with black volvet. The quiet taste of this hat is a welcome change from the gandy leadages so much in evidence just now. A dainty toque is of series miroti volvet. It has a brim of soft black chenille, square in shape and turned up at the corners. A single big black plume and a black osprey complete this trimming, while against the sain ribbon.—New York Sun. ome Gentle Words of Expostulation With "Bhods"-Some Small Shot.

If the marriage service could be som If the marriage service could be some-what changed, it would appear to be more appropriate to Fresno, as things have gone lately. The change would be simple. Instead of agreeing to be man and wife "till death us do part," the couple would contract to trut double "till one of us skips ont," Wolcott, Goodfellow, Hall and now Bostick—all have departed within a few weeks with-out announcing the fact in advance. With the two former departures it is probable that domestic infelicity had proudule that comestic intensity had nothing to do; with the two latter it is very clear that it did. REST FOR THE WEARY

THE SUPERVISORS, OPINION OF THE ROCK PILE.

There Must be an Entire Change of it Will be Abol-

Supervisor Letcher came very nessupervisor Lettine came vision of carrying his motion for the abolition of the stone corral or rock pile yesterday. He lacked only one vote and the general entiment of the board was that the rook pile, as at present operated, is simply a recreation ground for the chaingang.

Some time ago the railroad company Some time ago the railroad company ran a new switch through the corral and its previous prison-like aspect was clauged. With the view of making the rock pile as objectionable as possible to the tramps the supervisors passed a resolution that the latter, when taken to the pile in the morning, should be kept there condinuously till evening, not getting a meal till they had earned it. For come unexplained reason the order hecome unexplained reason the order hecome unexplained reason the order hecome unexplained reason the order had a morning swinging merrily along to the corral at ital-past eight, the boys chewing tobacco, or smoking cigarates and dgar souls picked up an route. By half-past eleven they were on their way back to jail with a square meal swaiting them; and a short return trip in the attennon completed their days' work.

Latcher did not mince matters in making his motion. He said that before Chairman Wickersham went away the ran a new switch through the corral and their days work.

Letcher did not mince matters in making his motion. He said that before Chairman Wickersham went away the proposition to sholish the rock pile had been brought up. It is a heavy expense for which the courty receives nothing. The stone correl may almost be called a play ground. The stone costs 50 cents a ton and the freight $1 at ion. The thing has not accomplished the end it was intended to accomplished and it was intended to accomplished and it was been considered to be considered that the order made by this board ostabilating the rotone yard for tramp latter be received to take effect from the passage of this motion.

stone yard for tramp labor be rescinded, to take effect from the passage of this motion.

Rose seconded the motion for the purpose of bringing the matter before the board, and apoke briefly in support of Letcher's views.

Sayre thought the rock pile has been a great benefit to the town and expressed regret that the order of the board as to continuous labor has not been complied with. In these times if it were nut for the rock pile the juil would be full of prisoners.

Latcher effered to prove that so far from acting as a deterrent, the county records would show that tramps and vegrants have never been more numerous. The present system of working the tramps is no question that under the present system very little work is got, out of the rock-pile. He should wait on the religion of the rock-pile. He thought seemable in the device of two would wait on the religion of the rock-pile. He thought seemating might be accomplished if a committee of two would wait on the religion of the rock-pile. He thought seematic might be accomplished if a committee of two would wait on the religion of the labor role.

THE MARTIN MEETINGS.

An Excellent Sermon Preached in the Adventist Church. The audience was not quite so large which listened to Rev. S. M. Martin which listened to the . S. of inclement heat night owing to the inclement weather. Those who missed being pres-ent were decidedly the losers. The subct was, "My Brother's Keeper," and as handled in Mr. Martin's usual en-was handled in Mr. Martin's usual entertaining manner.

The minister sold in part that many Christians fall away from the truth either Intellectually or morally. Misapprehending the truths of rovelation one may, while doing the beet he can in concistency with his understanding of roth, do unwittingly many lajurious things. But a far more injurious life is that which, while however sarnest may be the thought, is morally evil, leading to the roin of motifatules. The danger of evil living is far more than the injury to the evil doer. Its dissemination by inheritance is far more terrible. This was illustrated by the instance of a family from which 1200 doscendants have been traced, and of these over 700 were criminals. From these premieses the speaker iedanucted a powerful plea for early conversion.

The first anniversary of the Woman's Medical orb of Chicago reminds us again of the fact that women's clube continue to multiply and floorish and gain respectful recognition despite the suspicious of curious husbands, who were inclined to subject them to critical were inclined to subject them to critical inspection when they first began to see light, and they have reached a point, too, where they represent as much diversity in tone as the innu's club. This medical club, formed one year ago, was the first club of the kind ever organized in this country exclusively for women, and its object is to afford social as well as scientific advantages, to furnish opportunity for a more intimate acquaintance among women of the medical profession and bring about a lunmony between them which could not exist without some means of meeting togother and holding discussions entirely independent of the meet. Women me not cordisly Colima Baking Powder out some means of meeting together and holding discussious entirely independent of the men. Women are not cordially received in men's medical societies, so this medical club was a natural consequence. Last, but not an altogether unimportant reason for establishing this club, was the more frivoltous one of giving them a chance to indulge in harmless gossip over the cup of tea which is a woman's substitute for the cigar and glass of wine which men find necessary to be sociable, and whether she is a serious minded doctor or a society wuman she delights in her cup of tea and the friendly intorcourse it brings. That the progress of women in the medical profession is continuous is attested by the increasing number of women physicians and their growing success, in spite of the fact that they have to contend with a lack of faith in their skill and indegment simply because have to contend with a lack of, faith in their skill and judgment simply because they are women. The city of Chicago, with the suborbs, claims 250 women doctors, and many of those among the younger women are fitted to be surgeons. Dr. Gertrade Gail Wellington, who is a graduate of the Women's Medical college of the New York infirmary, was the first president of the olub and has ably served her term of one year. Besides the usual number of ruling officers there is a board of councilors, to when all questions in regard to the othics of the medical profession are referred.

During one year the club has given a manber of entertainments and receptions, bosides soveral banquots at the Auditorium hotel, to which men in the profession were invited. Actio from the social part, the women have done some good work in manifeipal reforms. By soliciting the unid of the press, and their own combined offorts, they succeeded in preventing the proposed abolishment of milk inspectors, and petitioned the city connell to consider the necessity of a smallpox hespital, which was finally huit. The disposition of garbage and the best methods for removing it is another subject which has received their attention. During one year the clab has given a

Dr. Wellington has taken great interest in the punishment of boys between 13 and 17, who are now sent to prison, where they associate with other crimwhere they associate with other criminals, and recomposed the cetablishment of a school for them whore they can be taught according to their speedul needs, and that they be sent to an asylam where they can have a doctor's care rather than to the penitentiary. The "pet scheme" which absorbs some of the attention of the club just at present is to establish a free bospital in connection with the International Medical Mission institute, a college which gives both men and women a practical education in medicine. It will be interesting to watch the result of this concerted action among the medical women, as there certainly is a wide runge of subjects which may come up for discussion and to limit to the good which is within their power to promote.—Now York their power to promote,-New York

The Intention of a Weman Mrs. Zonowsky, an American woman, though the wife of a Russian, has invented a new kind of paper, and has sold the second to a Liverpool firm for a large each remnaeration, with the promine of future dividends in case of promise of future dividends in case of commercial presportly. Mrs. Zonowsky one day left some lard on a window sill, wrapped in urdinary brown paper, and when she came back for it she noticed that the under portion of it had packed off in a most extraordinary manner, making a thin substance, like a thin sheet of transparent paper, between the lard and the actual paper wrapping. She went to work to investigate, and after many failures demonstrated by practical experiment that a now nuterial can be manufactured from animal substance. This material is to be used for various purposes, such as for making itsou paper, flowers and artists' paper.

The Umbrella.

To know how to roll an umbrella i fashiquable woman, for to be correct fashionable woman, for to be correct one's nubrella must suggest the slenderness and symmetry of a walking cane. The ribs should be laid fially against the stick and the points bold firmly in place, carving the thumb and fordinger of the right hand about them, while the left hand does the rolling, revolving the unbrella in so doing. The right thumb should be loose enough to permit the revolutions, while still holding down the points.—Godey's Magazine.
